

DURING THIS WEBINAR, WE WILL

- Identify increased risks to victim defendants as a result of COVID-19
- Identify strategies – and potential barriers – for getting victim defendants released from jails & prisons
- Discuss ways to meet the needs of victim defendants who are not incarcerated
- Share resources for advocates and attorneys who are working with victim defendants during the pandemic
- To the extent possible, hear from participants about their experiences working with victim defendants

COVID-19: INCREASED RISK TO VICTIM DEFENDANTS

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

CONTEXTUALIZING TODAY'S CONVERSATION

- The health risks are everywhere, but they are particularly detrimental for communities of color, Native communities, and poor people
- This crisis has highlighted many structural inequities, including over-representation of people of color in the criminal legal system
- While people are in the same storm, everyone is not in the same boat

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

INCREASED HEALTH RISKS TO VICTIM DEFENDANTS

- The health risks are particularly detrimental for people who
  - Are prevented from distancing
  - Do not have autonomy over their own actions/inactions
  - Have health-based risk factors
  - Are prevented from accessing risk-reducing necessities (PPE, testing, medical care, etc.)

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

INCREASED LEGAL RISKS TO VICTIM DEFENDANTS

- Increased motivation to plead guilty to get out of jail
- Delayed opportunities for release/relief (woman in New York died before she could get DVSJA relief)
- Lengthier pre-trial state control (on bail, electronic monitoring, house arrest, etc.)
- Lengthier parole/probation
- Inability to comply with bail/probation/parole conditions in a timely fashion
- Decreased ability to pay fines and costs
- Decreased or eliminated access to attorneys (in person and on phone)

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

COVID-19: ANOTHER WEAPON IN THE BATTERER'S TOOLBOX

- Many organizations have developed resources about ways that COVID-19 increases the ability of abusive partners to exert control over victims, including the Battered Women's Justice Project (BWJP) and the National Domestic Violence Hotline:
  - <https://www.bwjp.org/news/coercive-control-covid-19.html>
  - <https://www.thehotline.org/>

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

INCREASED RISKS FOR VICTIM DEFENDANTS BY ABUSIVE PARTNERS

- More opportunities for batterer sabotage of case (far out court dates, extended probation and parole because services are shut down, etc.)
- “Locked down” with abusive partner not just because of pandemic, but because of state control – additional potential consequences for leaving
- Remote court hearings may allow additional interference by abusive partner

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

INCREASED RISKS FOR INCARCERATED VICTIM DEFENDANTS BY ABUSIVE PARTNERS

- Batterer may exert coercion and control by:
  - Giving partner false info about health/kids’ health (lie about test results, death, etc.)
  - Feeding partner alarmist info about the outside world (convincing her that living with him is the only option/safe option, lying about shelters and services being closed, etc.)
  - Coercing access to money, property, etc.
  - Denying visits with children

---

SEEKING RELEASE AND SAFETY FOR VICTIM DEFENDANTS

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

GETTING PEOPLE OUT

- “Mass” release agreements
- Lawsuits
- Mass habeas corpus petitions
- Individual bail reduction hearings/EM
- Bail funds
- Detainer lifts
- Compassionate release
- No incarceration for technical violations
- Clemency (commutation, pardon)
- Parole/early parole
- Furlough
- Prompt/speedy trial motions
- Expanded use of alternative disposition
- Early termination of probation/parole
- On time termination – no delay just because courts closed

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

WHAT WE’VE HEARD FROM THE FIELD

- Even some “mass” releases have involved close scrutiny of individual defendants’ circumstances
- Release efforts for pre-trial defendants have been more successful than for defendants serving sentences, even those who are technically eligible for parole

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

WHAT WE'VE HEARD FROM THE FIELD

- Who “deserves” to be released?
  - Many anti-DV programs are struggling with calls to “release them all”
  - Concerns about safety of DV and SA victims if the person who harmed them is released; want to focus on “non-violent offenders”
  - Concerns about lack of victim notification
  - Many victim defendants serving time for a “crime of violence”

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

POTENTIAL ARGUMENTS TO INCLUDE WHEN SEEKING RELEASE

- Increased risk of complex trauma for those already living with trauma/PTSD (Coronavirus causes PTSD)
- Dramatically decreased access to services for incarcerated victims during pandemic (counseling, support groups, etc.)
- Low risk of recidivism for victims who have been in for a long time

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

ARGUMENTS, CONT'D

- Victimization increases incidences of many “high risk” conditions including
  - Diabetes
  - Hypertension
  - Respiratory conditions, particularly for victims who have experienced strangulation
- Many victims who are serving sentences in prison are over 50
- For pre-trial defendants, self-defense arguments may be effective

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

BUT ALSO CONSIDER

- “Safety” arguments may backfire if defendant will be residing with batterer
- May need to reconsider legal strategy (revealing self-defense strategy at bail hearing, turning over expert reports and other discovery early, etc.)
- “Standard” release terms may need modification

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

ANTICIPATING BARRIERS TO RELIEF FOR VICTIM-DEFENDANTS

- “Violent crime” prohibitions on release efforts
- “Well then she’s probably safer in jail/prison”
- Backlash for appearance of seeking “special treatment”

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

BAIL FUNDS

- Because of COVID-19, as well as bail reform efforts, there are more bail funds than ever before
- Do you know if there are bail funds in your community? Are you connected with them? Check with public defender offices, legal aid offices, and national organizations such as
  - <https://bailproject.org/>
  - <https://bailbondsnetwork.com/bail-bonds-funds.html>

ASSISTING VICTIM DEFENDANTS WHO ARE NOT INCARCERATED:
COVID-SPECIFIC
ADVOCACY STRATEGIES

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

ASSISTING VICTIM DEFENDANTS WHO ARE NOT INCARCERATED

- Provide services for victims who are reentering, on bail, etc., if that isn't already happening
- Explicit messaging – if program/shelter is operating, say so in informational materials (and in the jails and prisons)
  - Be particularly explicit about reentry services
- Counter false messaging (from batterer, others) that could be detrimental to the victim defendant (shelters are closed, courts are closed, the hospital isn't taking anyone besides COVID patients, etc.)
- Help victim defendants comply with release conditions if possible

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

ADVOCACY STRATEGIES, CONT'D

- In some communities, COVID-19 has resulted in increased surveillance by police. Everyone needs to know their rights in the event of a police interaction
  - Making statements to police
  - Planning for bail, children, work, etc. should arrest (or re-arrest) occur
  - Help facilitate private communication with defense attorney

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

- Help defendants navigate their cases in light of the ways that COVID has changed how courts proceed – and do so from a defense-based perspective
- Safety plan with defendants who are having remote court hearings, prep sessions with attorney, etc.
- As always, avoid discussing the facts of the defendant's case, particularly when confidentiality is not guaranteed (Zoom, etc.)
